Culture of Service

Nurturing a mindset and heartbeat of biblical servanthood should be a cornerstone of our families. Join Heritage Dean of Students and father, Jason Thomas, to learn how to develop a service-learning culture in your home. Mr. Thomas will share the same principles that he is working to develop in our Upper School students and that you can incorporate into your family. Come ready to be challenged with the idea that serving is something that emanates from who we are and who we are becoming in Christ as opposed to just something we do. All parents are welcome to attend.
