Holiday Traditions and Pop-Up Book Sale

Heritage mothers, mark your calendars now. You will not want to miss this morning on campus! Some have said that traditions are to a family what romance is to a marriage. How do we as mothers create meaningful, Christ-honoring traditions for our families? This workshop is always a wonderful time for moms in our community to gather together to share some of their favorite holiday traditions. You will leave with great ideas to take home and make your own as you incorporate them into your own family celebrations. All moms are encouraged to attend this workshop.

After the holiday traditions workshop, the chairs of the PSF Book Fair Committee will host a Holiday Pop-up Book Shop. This "mini" Book Fair will offer wonderful, carefully curated titles for your family to enjoy as we enter the holiday season. Join us in the North Campus Chapel to purchase from an intentional collection of new and used titles, including:

- Christmas books (with a mixture of old favorites and new gems)
- Class Christmas Party "Gift Exchange" books
- Christmas gifts for your family and friends
